DANCE COSTUMES.

The Fashion Crank Gets In with the Following:

ED. APPEAL—Allow me sufficient space in your valuable and well circulated journal to enter a protest against the present ball-room costumes, and at the same time make a few suggestions in this connection.

Dancing as a pleasure is exquisite for the first three or four engagements, but after that the room becomes warm, the desire to trip the light fantastic begins to wane and on begins to feel uncomfortable as time grows on apace.

The torture can only be alleviated by a few stolen moments in the ante-room or the open air, which are taken up by the young men trying to adjust their damp and pliable collars, while the perspiration rolls off their faces.

Many bad colds are contracted by the victim crowding on too many clothes, (for the eternal fitness of things,) becoming overheated and then going out into the night air.

A free and easy costume should at once be introduced which would admit of the action of the limbs without inconvenience to the dancer.

The tennis costume, with silk shirts and light coats, in the warm month should supplant the full dress and high starched collars which the gentlemen feel obliged to wear, simply in order to follow the style.

Should the fashion of light clothing once be introduced among the gentlemen, I opine that the entire dancing community would at once take to it.

As for the ladies, your correspondent suggests nothing, as their fashions can be handled by themselves.

I hope this communication will have the desired effect.

Yours truly,
A REFORMER.

A NEW BOOK.—A book by Mary A. Livermore, entitled, "My Story of the War," has just been put upon the market. In this new and superbly illustrated work, the world-famous authoress narrates her personal work and experiences as a hospital and field nurse during the war of the rebellion. We do not know when 700 pages have given us more genuine pleasure. Mrs. Livermore spent four years as a nurse in hospitals, camps, at the front, and on the battle field, and these four years were packed with pathos, glory and sacrifice, probably never paralleled in the life of any other woman. Her narrative presents a vivid inner picture of the womanly side of the war, more especially of her own work and thrilling experiences, with many pathetic and humorous incidents portraying the lights and shadows of hospital life. They are described as only an eye witness and a tender-hearted woman could describe them.

NOT EATEN BY FISH.—William Jones, a brother of one of the Washoe Lake victims, says that the only way the bodies recovered from the lake could be identified was by the color of the hair. The features were swollen and discolored to a degree that made recognition impossible. He says the report that the faces and hands of the drowned men were mutilated from being eaten by catfish is not true. The body of his brother was interred at Reno, as it was too much decomposed to transport from there to Silver City.

RESPECT FOR THE DECEASED.—In consideration of the funeral ceremonies over the remains of the late George M. Sabin, (now lying in the Capitol building), no official business will be transacted today in the State offices.

Judge Sabin's Remains.

Yesterday's passenger train brought the remains of Judge Sabin to Carson escorted by his nephew, H. W. Sabin, G. C. Thaxter, T. D. Edwards, C. H. Galusha, Dr. Lee and T. Coffin. A delegation of G. A. R. veterans were at the train to attend their late comrade to the capital, where his remains will lie in state today.

The remains were incased in a handsome casket, with silver mountings and an appropriately engraved plate.

The body was well laid out, and the face had lost none of the soft lines.

All who so desired were allowed to view the remains and many a G. A. R. veteran hovered near to secure a last look.

The funeral ceremonies will take place from the Episcopal church today at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the G. A. R., as it was the expressed desire of the Judge that he should be interred under the direction of that organization.

By request of Custer post Rev. Geo. R. Davis will close the service and deliver the eulogy at the grave.

The rendition of the Chimney Corner by the Carson Dramatic Club will fully compensate for the loss of Said Pasha. The Living Statue is a great piece of work in its line, and the Davis brothers are not slouches in the slightest degree. Those who attend this performance will get their money's worth before the first act is over.

Mrs. John Munro of San Diego, was poisoned by juice of canned pine-apple.

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing.—W. H. Chedie Druggist.

COUGH! AND COUGH! AND COUGH!!—What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedie Druggist.

HOW CAN PARENTS—Allow their children to cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by using BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedie Druggist.

There will be a picnic at Cook's Ranch, on Sunday, May 25th. Good music and lots of fun for those who attend. The music will be furnished by the Carson Brass Band and orchestra of twelve pieces. *tf
